OPPORTUNITIES

Salad Luncheon sponsored by United Methodist Women

Thursday, June 7, 1:00 pm

The United Methodist Women (UMW) are pleased to invite you to the June program and Salad Luncheon on Thursday, June 7, in Fellowship Hall. Join us as our UMW Conference President, Micki Phelps, teaches us about one of our many UMW mission projects—the Grand Rapids Community House.

All women of all ages are encouraged to join us. Bring a desire to connect and a salad to share. We can't wait to see you there!

Disability Awareness Sunday

Sunday, June 10, 9:45 am – 1:45 pm

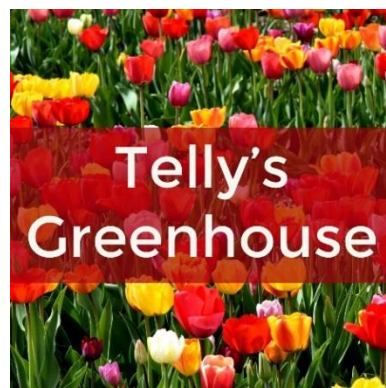

On Sunday, June 10, adults and children alike, will be able to experience what it feels like to have certain disabilities at our Disability Awareness Fair in Fellowship Hall.

There are 20-25 positions available to help make this educational event a meaningful experience for others. Training will be provided on Saturday, June 9, 10:30 am-12:00 pm. If you are interested in participating in this event, please contact Amber Evans at amberarco@yahoo.com or sign up at the Here I Am Lord table in Fellowship Hall.

Telly's Greenhouse Fundraiser

Telly's Greenhouse in Troy and Shelby will donate 10% of each purchase made with a special coupon. Be sure to stop by the Here I Am Lord table in Fellowship Hall to pick up your coupon. The offer only lasts until June 30, so don't wait!

Lunch Program Opportunities

Every week day, we open our doors and serve a bagged lunch and a hot meal to anyone who needs it. If you have been looking for a way to make a concrete difference in people's lives, this program is perfect for you. This program is perfect for you if you are able to volunteer once a week, once a month, or only once in a while. We have spaces open for servers, cooks, shoppers, schedulers, substitutes, you name it! If you have a desire to serve, we have a place for you.

If you are interested in this growing ministry, please contact Laurie O'Donnell in the office or email her at lodonnell@rofum.org.

LETTER FROM THE PASTOR

Dear Friends,

After 12 years of ministry, and 8 years as a candidate, it's going to be official! Woohoo! Next weekend, at the Annual Conference of the Michigan Area of the United Methodist Church (say that 10 times fast), I'm getting ordained! But what does that mean?

First, not much. I've been a provisional deacon for 3 years, appointed by the bishop to a ministry of service, word, compassion, and justice. I already had Rev. in front of my name, and I finished seminary in 2013. No, ordination doesn't mean that I'm going to get moved somewhere else. Deacons like me (those with a specialized ministry to bridge with the community) aren't part of the (itinerant) system by which pastors are moved between churches. I'm still going to be your Minister of Worship & Arts, and my day-to-day work isn't going to change because of this new thing.

Second, it means a lot. All Christians are called to ministry. Some, though, are crafted and called to ministries of this kind of leadership. In our tradition, leadership isn't something taken, it's something given. When the faith community looks for leaders, we look for knowledge, health, effectiveness, and the work of the Spirit in and through them. That doesn't mean that ordained ministers know everything, can do everything, or have everything together. Ordination is the final step where the church, that's you, affirms God-given leadership in this person.

So next week, when the bishop lays his hands on my head, and when I pledge my life to a ministry of word, service, compassion, and justice, know that I will feel the weight of your hands, and the responsibility you entrust to my care. I will also continue to feel your support, lifting me up, helping me grow as a leader, so that Royal Oak First might continue to transform the world through love.

Thank you, from my deepest heart, for loving me into this new phase of ministry.

Yours in service,
