LENTEN MUSICAL MOMENTS

Join us online every Sunday in Lent at 4:00 p.m. for a 30 minute Musical Moment. Each week, different members of our congregation will present 20-30 minutes of music. Many of us are missing the music at Royal Oak First that we had been used to pre-pandemic. This will be a safe way to lift your spirits with music! You will hear a variety of music each week from choral ensembles, soloists, house band, organ music, piano music, instrumental music and more. Tune in each Sunday at 4:00 p.m. on our YouTube channel beginning March 6.

TIME OF PRAYER

Royal Oak First is now offering a Time of Prayer every Tuesday from 11:00-11:30 a.m. Join one of our Pastors in the Sanctuary to review the prayer list, share our own joys and concerns and spend some time in silence with God. Contact Danielle Moody at dmoody@rofum.org with any questions.

LETTER FROM OUR PASTOR

Greetings Friends!

This month we have been talking about resilience and generosity. Around here, these are easy topics because you have demonstrated both so much, especially in the last two years!

At the end of the month, you will have the opportunity to make your financial commitment to the church for 2022. Financial support is just one part of our commitment when we decide to be part of a congregation. Reflecting on this journey for us, I see an interesting pattern. When Jeff and I joined Central United Methodist Church in Detroit in 1997, the extent of our planning and giving was to scoop up the dollar bills and change on the dresser on the way out the door. After a few years of that, there was a presentation at church about stewardship where we learned about tithing and how our gifts really mattered for ministry. We couldn't move straight to giving 10%, but we got on a path and made increases each year, even as Jeff's appointments took us to new churches. What I have noticed is that as we increased our financial commitment, our spiritual and emotional connection improved as well - there is something about being invested in a place that is so rewarding. And, somehow, the more we committed to give, the easier it became. It was just part of the budget and the plan and has not felt like a burden.

With both of us being appointed here, we have the unique opportunity to see how the generosity of this congregation makes a difference every single day - from the lunch program to the community groups using space to our children and youth having a safe place to grow - every day there are people through here experiencing the love of God in real and meaningful ways.

This year, there are two ways to commit to giving - there will be two cards to return. One will be to support the church and its day to day ministries for 2022. The other invites you to make a commitment to helping rebuild our Endowment Fund. We were so fortunate to have the Endowment when we needed it to complete the building project, and now we have to be sure it will be there for projects for future generations. Jeff and I will be adding $25/week to our pledge for the Endowment. All our gifts together will put our church on a firm foundation.

This Sunday and next, you will hear from Pastor Jeff about the gift of resilience. You will also hear testimonials from people who have found a home here at Royal Oak First. Combined with your own experiences here with our congregation, I hope you will take some time to reflect on what this place means to you and your hopes for our church in the future.

In gratitude,
