BBQ AND MOVIE NIGHT

On Wednesday, June 29, 5:30-8:30 p.m. join us for a casual evening of BBQ and watching a movie at the Troy home of Joyce and Tami Hollingsworth. They will host a BBQ in their beautiful backyard with lovely gardens and then move inside to watch the Oscar winning best picture of the year - "CODA: Children of Deaf Adults", a wonderful coming-of-age gem that aims directly at the heart and hits the bullseye. The fantastic Emilia Jones stars as Ruby, a teen who must choose between going away to college to pursue music or staying home to help her deaf parents and brother run their commercial fishing business. Encouraged by her enthusiastic, tough-love choirmaster to apply to a prestigious music school, Ruby finds herself torn between the obligations she feels to her family and the pursuit of her own dreams. Scan the QR code in the image or visit www.rofum.org to sign up.

BBQ & Book Discussion

BBQ & BOOK DISCUSSION

On Wednesday, July 27, 5:30-8:30 p.m. join us for a casual evening of BBQ and book discussion at the Troy home of Joyce and Tami Hollingsworth. They will host a backyard BBQ in their beautiful backyard with lovely gardens that will lead into an engaging discussion afterwards of the New York Times bestselling book Accidental Saints: Finding God in All the Wrong People. In Accidental Saints, author Nadia Bolz-Weber invites readers into a surprising encounter with the least likely of people - a church-loving agnostic, a drag queen, a felonious Bishop and a gun-toting member of the NRA. Accidental Saints demonstrates what happens when ordinary people share bread and wine, struggle with scripture together, and tell each other the truth about their real lives. This unforgettable account of their faltering steps toward wholeness will ring true for believer and skeptic alike.

LETTER FROM OUR PASTOR

Dear Friends,

On June 6, 2006 and again on May 25, 2008, my life changed forever. These are the dates that I became a father. Fatherhood has been one of the most incredible gifts as well as one of the most challenging experiences of my life. Being a dad has brought out both my best and my worst. Nothing quite prepares you for being a parent - except being a parent. There is simply a lot of "on the job training."

This Sunday the culture around us celebrates Father's Day and while Father's Day is not specifically a religious holiday. Being a dad has helped me grow in my dependence on God. I have had to learn to pause, breathe, and find my best self at the times when my boys and I don't see eye to eye. My relationship with God has helped me "free" both of my boys to become their own people, trusting they are exactly what God made them to be and releasing them from my own expectations about who they should be. And one of my favorite things to do as their dad is to simply stand in the doorway of their bedrooms while they are asleep and ask the Holy Spirit to fill them, guide them, encourage them and protect them. More than ever, I am just proud to be their father.

As Erica reminded us on Mother's Day, Father's Day can also be complicated. Our relationships with our own fathers can bring with them a multitude of emotions. My relationship with my father has evolved over the years, going through seasons of deep connection, hard conflict and misunderstanding, forgiveness and now a simple and abiding friendship. One of my great joys has been watching my dad become a grandfather. So, no matter your experience as a father, or with your father, know that God is in the midst of it all with you - with us.

Happy Father's Day.

Grace and Peace,

Pastor Jeff
