Christian Meditation Practices

CHRISTIAN MEDITATION PRACTICES

As our lives become more and more filled with distractions, activities, and responsibilities it is more important than ever that we make the time to defragment our minds and allow God space to work within and through us. Christian Centering Meditation can help to give us the opportunities that we need to discover, or re-discover, our center in Christ. This is a simple time-tested technique that has proven valuable to untold numbers of modern day saints.

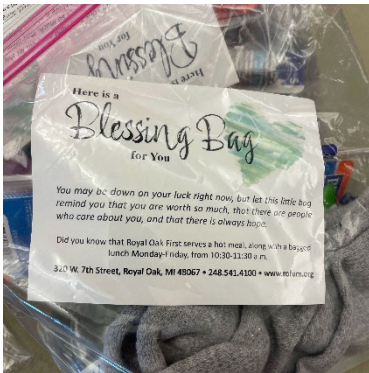

No need to sign up. Join us on Sundays (began Sunday, July 10) from 5:30-7:00 p.m. in the purple conference room on the 1st floor.

LETTER FROM OUR PASTOR

Dear Friends,

It happens here! That has been the little mantra running through my mind all week.

It happens here! What is “it” that happens?

It is Christ’s love made real. And where it happens is right here at Royal Oak First.

Christ’s love is made real here at Royal Oak First and I get the privilege of seeing it every day.

It might be hard to remember, as COVID has disrupted so many of our patterns for gathering for worship and fellowship, so let me just tell you a few of the ways I have seen Christ’s love made real just this past week.

I witnessed Michael Monte, our Outreach on 7th Director, and Karla Goetz, our Missions Coordinator, work together to give a new mother, who was recently without a home, the resources she needed to get set up in a new apartment. From food, to linens, to formula and diapers, they simply made Christ’s love real.

I met a young man named David the other night. He rang the bell after hours and I was able to let him in. He was looking for a recovery meeting. It was his first meeting ever. It was clear he was nervous and a bit jittery. I told him he was in the right place and walked him to our parlor where a community of care was simply waiting to receive him. Christ’s love was made real by the simple act of gracious hospitality.

This week we celebrated the lives of both Cathy Thatcher’s and Jen Irish-Minewiser’s mothers. While neither of these women were “members” of our community, you just did “it” for them - you just made Christ’s love real. Our staff and musicians made sure that the space and the service was done with great care and kindness. Cathy Baker, Janice Marsh and their team of wonderful servants provided a wonderful lunch.

These are a few of the ways Christ’s love has been made real in this past week.

It was a good feeling to be reminded that even though we can’t all get here, through our prayers and generosity, “it” - Christ’s love - is still being made real right here!

Thank you to each of you for being a part of this community. Together God is making a real difference through us.

Grace and Peace,

Pastor Jodi
