LETTER FROM OUR PASTOR

Dear Friends,

Merry Christmas!

Welcome to Royal Oak First.

We are glad you are here!

Growing up, Christmas Eve was always a very busy and hectic day - especially as the prospect of attending worship in the evening came closer. We were a family of four with just one bathroom so getting everyone cleaned up, dressed up, fed and out the door in time to get a "good seat" at church was always hectic and stressful. The effort of getting to church always seems to steal the last remaining feelings of "peace on earth and goodwill to all."

But something would happen during that Christmas Eve service every year. Somewhere in the midst of singing the familiar songs, listening to the old familiar stories of mangers, stables and shepherds and of course the candlelight and Silent Night that culminated the night something would happen. I would look over and see the tear rolling down my father's cheek and then turn to look at my mom and behold the deep, satisfied smile resting upon her face as if all was truly right in her world. And even seeing my younger brother in the candlelight of Christmas Eve made me love him in ways I could not find the rest of the year. Something happens in the sanctuary on nights like tonight. And all I hope is that whatever that is happens for you tonight.

Emmanuel. God is with us!

So please enjoy the worship.

Come back in the weeks that follow to worship with us again.

But most importantly may you leave with a peace that truly passes all understanding.

Grace and Peace,

Pastor Jeff
