OUR WAY

About This Sermon Series

Why do you come to church? Most of us answer that question differently, although there are usually some common threads. At Royal Oak First, one thread is often about experiencing the grace and love of God before anything else. In this series, we want to explore “Our Way,” we want to give vocabulary and history to why we teach that grace goes first. We want to explore what it means to be loved before anything is expected of us, and to see how Jesus is the divine example of love and grace. We want to remember that communion and baptism are means of experiencing grace so that we can be God’s love made public. And we want to learn together what it means to stay, even when staying is hard.

LETTER FROM OUR PASTOR

Dear Beloved Community,

This week, I want to begin with a very big thank you to Karla Goetz.

For the last several years, Karla has served as our Missions Coordinator, and as she steps away from that role to give more time to family and teaching, I hope we can pause and recognize just how much she has helped shape the mission life of Royal Oak First.

Karla came into this work during those strange early days after COVID, when we were all trying to figure out how to be together again. After spending so much time inside our own homes, we were rediscovering what it meant to be a church connected to our neighbors, our community, and the wider world. Karla helped us reconnect.

She also kept asking a wonderful question: How do we help more people actually do mission?

That led to Service on Sundays, giving people of all ages the chance to stay after worship, roll up their sleeves, and participate in hands-on projects right here in our building.

One of my favorite things Karla has said over the years is that she thought she had one of the best jobs in the church because she got to represent all of you in so many places. She carried the generosity, compassion, energy, and love of this congregation out into the world. And maybe most importantly, she helped build a Mission Team that will continue that work long after her time on staff has ended.

Karla, we are going to miss you. But what you have built here remains. You leave with our gratitude, our love, and our blessing. Thank you for helping us make Christ's love real.

There are a couple of other beautiful things happening this Sunday as well.

We will present Bibles to our third graders, one of those church traditions that means more to me every year. I still have the Bible my Methodist church gave me when I was in third grade, signed by my pastor, Rev. Carol Smith, and my Sunday school teacher, Mrs. Smith. All these years later, it is still on my shelf.

When we hand a child a Bible, we are telling them something important: This story belongs to you, too. Take it with you. Grow with it. Ask questions of it. Let it remind you that you are part of this story and part of this community.

This week, we will continue our Our Way series by talking about that old Methodist phrase that our hearts can be "strangely warmed." It seems especially fitting this week. Grace goes first. You belong before you prove anything.

And together, we make love real.

Grace and peace,

Pastor Jeff Nelson
